

Don't ask for trouble. Ask for I.D.

Selling cigarettes to anyone under 18 is against the law. In most states, retail clerks can be fined if they sell cigarettes or other tobacco products to minors. In many states that require a license to sell tobacco, retailers can lose this license or even face jail time for selling to minors. This is serious business—make it your business.

Know the law — and enforce it.

- Customers must be 18 or older for you to sell them cigarettes or any other tobacco products.
- If you are unsure that a customer is of age, ask for I.D.
- If you are not absolutely convinced the I.D. is authentic and valid, do not sell the customer cigarettes or any other tobacco product.

Selling tobacco products to persons under 18 is illegal.
